INTERMEZZO

09.-11.12.2020 | on line

The Nice Côte d'Azur metropolitan area was meant to host the AlpWeek Intermezzo this year. However, in response to evolving health conditions, the organisation committee has decided to make this event completely virtual. Field visits will be adapted to comply with this format as far as possible.

The conference will take place via Zoom. A link will be sent to you by email a few days in advance of the event.

This event is free of charge, by registration only until 1st December 2020 at:

www.alpweek.org/2020/en/registration

To find out more about the workshops and field visits on offer:

www.alpweek.org/2020/en/program

Just like its sister event, AlpWeek, which takes place every four years, AlpWeek Intermezzo is an international event co-organised by the leading Alpine organisations committed to mountain protection and sustainable development.

The 2020 AlpWeek Intermezzo offers a chance for stakeholders from the various Alpine cooperation frameworks to meet. A range of workshops, field visits as well as opportunities for discussion and debate will be organised on the subject of "Youth & Climate - How can young people in the Alps be involved in shaping their future?"

Data protection:

Some of the presentations will be recorded by the organisers with the consent of the speaker(s). Participants are not permitted to record audio or video excerpts of the conference and/or parts of the conference due to copyright infringement.

Sessions 1 - 4Session 1: AlpTick - A single ticket for the whole of the Alps

Our ambition is to have a single ticket in operation for all public transport in the Alpine region. The Alpine ticket (AlpTick) will make travelling in the Alps easier, more sustainable, and more appealing to young people.

Organizer: Conseil des jeunes de la CIPRA

EN SI

Session 2: GeoBioBlitz, a model to advance understanding of the Alpine ecosystems

The main aim of this project is to discuss the role of humans in their environment and interactive environmental processes. How can we advance understanding of the Alpine ecological system among young people so that they can become its new ambassadors?

Organizer: Environmental Protection College

EN FR

Session 3: The Via Alpina - a historical pathway focused on the future

The Via Alpina is a trans-Alpine route involving a range of Alpine stakeholders. This workshop aims to bring the past and the future closer together and to enable older and younger generations of hikers to share their perspectives.

Organizer: CIPRA International

FR

On line excursionsOn line excursion I: The place of mountain resorts in young people's future in the Alps at +2°C / +4°C

Ski stations play a fundamental part in the identity and socio-economic activity of the Alps. These areas, and the sectors of the economy which support them, are particularly susceptible to the impact of climate change. This workshop-visit offers an opportunity to head out into the field, to Auron, a resort in the Nice Côte d'Azur metropolitan area, to discover how the area intends to adapt to climate change and to come up with ideas together for the future of these resorts.

Organizer: Métropole Nice Côte d'Azur, AlpWeek Organisation committee

14:30 – 16:00

A meeting between young people and European public policy makers

Questions relating to the future of young people in the Alps, as well as their involvement in public policy such as the Alpine macro-regional strategy and the Alpine Convention, are important issues for the AlpWeek organisers. The French presidency of EUSALP also highlighted the role of young people in its action plan, so this offers a great opportunity to come together to listen, discuss and change our perspective on the Alps and the future of its young people.

www.alpweek.org

Like its big sister the Alpine Week, which is held every four years, the AlpWeek Intermezzo is an international event organised jointly by the most important Alpine organisations involved in sustainable development and protection of mountains.

The AlpWeek Intermezzo 2020 will be linked to the Alpine Conference and the EUSALP General Assembly. This event will allow a meeting between the actors of these different frameworks of Alpine cooperation.
